

1 DYING, 3 HURT, IN WRECK

Confessed Slayer Faces Trial Monday in Murder of Friend

Case of John G. Harris of Bono, Ark., Arraigned
Before Court

SLAYS COMPANION Attempts Suicide Several Times After Arrest Early in Year

TEXARKANA.—Climaxing one of the most baffling murder cases in years, John G. Harris, 27, of Bono, Ark., went on trial in fifth judicial district court at Boston Monday morning for a murder of Ed Royal, 55, of Port Huron, Mich.

The defense will be led by Sid Crump, while District Attorney E.
L. Lincoln will head the prosecution.
A special venire of 60 men has been summoned for the trial.

The body of Royal was discovered about 75 feet from the highway near Bassett on Sunday morning, March 13. An automobile tire pump and jack, apparently the death weapons were found in a shallow pool of water near by. The name of Harry J. Lawson, Oak Park, Ill., in the dead man's coat, and $19.30 in his pocket furnished the officers the only clues.

The count label exploded quickly when Lawson notified officers he had given the garment to a tramp seven years previously. Seeking clues in both directions from the murder scene, Sheriff Henry Brooks learned from Milton Shertoff at Mount Vernon that the murder victim, yet unidentified, and a younger man had eaten in his cafe late Saturday night and that he had given the elderly man the $19.30 found in his pocket.

Found Abandoned Car
The next lead developed when an abandoned car was found on West Seventh street in Texarkana. The license plates had been removed. Es-sary found under the seat was the name of John W. Hilton of Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Through California authorities Sheriff Brooks learned that Hilton had sold the death car to a secondhand car dealer at Indio, Calif., several months before. The purchaser was found to have been sold to Ed Royal of Port Huron, Mich. Descriptions furnished from California identified the dead man as Royal. Reports that a younger man had accompanied Royal from Indian, Calif., led to further investigation with the information that John G. Harris, of Bono, Ark., had accompanied Royal eastward, intending to go to his home in Arkansas.

At the request of Sheriff Brooks, Harris was arrested in his father's home at Bono, and was returned to Texarkana, maintaining his innocence.

Confesses Killing

Questioned here, Harris finally confessed killing Royal, according to Bowie county officers. In his confession Harris stated that he and Royal had parked beside the highway to sleep and that he was aroused by Royal trying to attack him. Harris said he grabbed up the auto jack and struck Royal on the head. After his license plates had been removed, he dragged him from the car and realized that he had killed his companion. He said he dragged the body about 75 feet from the road and drove into Tex-arkana and abandoned the car after removing the license plates. He rode a freight train to Bono, he said.

A special grand jury indicted Harris for murder and his trial was set for April 21. Meanwhile, Harris attempted suicide by butting his head against his cell wall and was brought to a Texarkana hospital for treatment.
While confined in the hospital, he attempted to leap from a third-story window and was chained to his bed.

When arraigned for trial, Harris threw "fits" and his attorneys recommended a sanity test. On April 22, a Bowie county jury adjudged Harris sane and his trial was reset for the current court term.

Back in his cell, Harris, according to fellow prisoners, broke the crutches he had used since being returned to Texarkana and told them he had been feigning that he was crippled. Harris told officers that he had been injured while fighting forest fires in North Dakota. Harris also is alleged to have told his prison companions that he had been feigning insanity.

A few days later Harris became ill and told the jailer he had drunk a quantity of poisonous disinfectant. A stomach pump was used and he suffered no ill effects. Later, he told the jailer he had broken a bottle and eaten the glass. Since that time no reports of suicidal attempts have come from Harris' cell.

Report Made Upon Theft of Auto Tags

Only Eight Found to Be Missing at Capital in Investigation

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—In a report to Chairman Dwight H. Blockwood of the state highway commission on his investigation of the theft of automobile license plates from the department's reserve supply, V. A.
Kleiber, chief auditor of the department, said Saturday night that eight sets of tags were stolen, six of which were recovered and the other two thrown in the river.

Three men are in custody in connection with the thefts. They are Walter Heppinstall and George and Fred Garrison, of North Little Rock.
Kleiber reported that an inventory of all tags on hand disclosed only the eight sets missing. He said that investigation showed the tags were taken from the capital, basement where repairs were being made on the ventilating system. No one connected with the highway department had anything to do with the thefts, Kleiber said.

Information obtained during the investigation has been turned over to the prosecuting attorney's office.
Kleiber said it was reported to officers that Heppinstall did not participate in the actual theft and was guilty only of disposing of one or more of the sets of tags.

The thefts were disclosed following the finding of a car at Ozark, driven by a Little Rock man, bearing a set of tags which a state highway patrolman found upon investigation had not been issued.

Socialist Regime Is Set Up in Chile

Officials Believe Situation Not Serious Although Strong Support Reported

SANTIAGO, Chile.—(P)—A counter revolution against the Socialist regime, which set itself up Saturday, has broken out in Southern Chile, reputedly with the support of the army and navy.

Officials did believe it serious however and if necessary they said they would send airplanes to bombard the rebels.
The establishment of the new regime creates no immediate danger for American investments, totaling nearly a billion and a half dollars, except those connected with the 375 million dollars Cosach Nitrate combine, which will probably be nationalized immediately.

Roosevelt Forces To Oppose Shouse

Senator Walsh of Montana Their Choice for Permanent Chairman

NEW YORK.—(P)—Friends of Gov-Franklin D. Roosevelt have determined to support Senator Walsh of Montana for permanent chairmanship of the Democratic National convention, James A. Farley, field marshal of the Roosevelt forces said Sunday.

Their conclusion was announced in the face of the recent recommendation of the Convention Arrangements Committee which chose Senator Barkley of Kentucky as temporary chairman and recommended J. P. Shouse, the party's executive committee chairman, to be permanent convention chairman.

The statement of Farley was as follows:

"The governor's friends have come to the conclusion that they will urge selection of Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana as permanent chairman of the Chicago convention."

Farley spoke after a luncheon with Governor Roosevelt at Hyde Park, New York. There has been considerable speculation on the possibility of the Roosevelt forces opposing Shouse since the recommendation was made by the committee. Shouse, who took a position against instructing convention delegates, has been labeled by the governor's followers as unfriendly to the New Yorker.

At the time of the Arrangements Committee's report the impression was general that the unprecedented recommendation of a permanent chairman (Shouse) was the result of a compromise by which the committee members had agreed upon Barkley, staunch Roosevelt supporter, as temporary chairman and keynoter.

Contact With High Voltage Line Fatal

Mississippi County Farmer Electrocuted When He Seeks to Recover Toy

BLYTEVILLE.—Ouis F. Nash, aged 22, farmer in the New Liberty community, near here, was electrocuted shortly before noon Sunday when he attempted to retrieve a wire sling he had thrown across a high voltage power line.

The accident occurred near the Gilchrist plantation, several miles south of Blytheville. Nash with two other youths, was walking along the road tossing a sling into the air which he had made with bailing wire and a sling. The sling lodged on the 11,000-volt line, and against the advice of his companions Nash mounted a nearby log to reach the sling. He was killed almost instantly when he touched the sling.

He is survived by his father, W. A.
Nash; five sisters, Mildred, Alwilda, Lourine, Maurine and Sara, and three brothers, Billy, R. D. and John L.

Cost Plus Contracts Declared Illegal by the Supreme Court

Highway Work on Non-Competitive Basis Also
Is Found Against Law

SUITS ARE PENDING
Maintenance Costing Over $1,000 Must Be Let to Low Bidder

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—State highway contracts, awarded on cost plus and non competitive basis, were declared illegal by the Arkansas supreme court Monday.

This action paves the way for suits by the state to recover from contractors on numerous contracts let on this basis and under which the Highway Audit Commission has developed testimony tending to show large over-payments.

Suits already are pending against two contracting companies.
The supreme court upheld the Pulaski chancery court in granting a restraining order to the attorney general of the state, preventing the state auditor and the state treasurer from issuing vouchers and cashing warrants on cost plus contracts.

A declaration of the supreme court said "by no stretch of imagination could such contracts be held to be within the law which provides for state force work."

The contracts were said in the opinion of the court to be plainly in violation of three legislative mandates creating the highway commission which provide that all highway maintenance work, costing more than $1000 be advertised and that all construction contracts in excess of that amount be advertised and awarded to the lowest bidder and must be signed and accepted by at least three members of the highway commission and attested by the secretary of the body.

Woman Shoots Self To Death in Texas

Avery Resident's Death Is Held Suicide by Coroner's Jury

AVERY, Texas.—Mrs. Virgie Heath, 50, of Groom, Texas, committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart at 12:10 p. m. Sunday while visiting here at the home of her brother-in-law, P. J. Medford. Death was instantaneous.

Coroner Pat Clark, of Clarksville, Texas, called to Avery following the death of Mrs. Heath, returned a verdict of suicide.

Poor health was advanced as the cause of the woman taking her life.
She was said to have been acting peculiarly for the past three or four days.

Medford, who was sitting on the front porch at the time, rushed into the house when he heard the shot and caught his sister-in-law by the arm just as she fell to the floor. She died before making a statement.

Mrs. Heath killed herself with a .45 caliber pistol which she took from a dresser. Relatives found the weapon there when they rushed into the room after hearing the report of the revolver.

No message was left behind.
Mrs. Heath has been visiting in Avery for the last three weeks. She has two daughters, Mrs. May Ford of Groom, and Mrs. Irene Bearden of Lanesville, Texas.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the First Methodist church, the hour depending upon the arrival of relatives. It was expected that services would be held about 3 p. m. Other arrangements had not been completed Sunday night.

Cornelius and Mimms Case Postponed Week

A preliminary hearing in Municipal court for Jess Cornelius and Jack Mimms, charged with being drunk, fighting and disturbing the peace, was postponed Monday on account of chancery court being in session at Washington. The hearing will probably come up next week.

Mimms and Cornelius engaged in a fight at the Cornelius home near the golf course last Wednesday morning, which left Mimms with a deep gash on the neck.

Wednesday morning, it was announced by Mrs. George W. Robison was killed in an automobile

Dr. Butler Plans Wet Plank Fight

"Bell Has Rung for Pussy-foot," Declares Columbia U. President

NEW YORK.—(P)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler Sunday announced plans for a vigorous fight in the Republican national convention for a plank calling on Congress to submit a prohibition repeal proposal to state conventions for ratification.

The veteran president of Columbia University, a "war horse" of the Old Guard who long has been a zealous foe of prohibition, described his resolution as somewhat more extended than the one he fought for vainly four years ago.

If the Committee on Resolutions fails to report his declaration or a similar one to the convention, he said, it will be offered to the delegates with a demand for a roll call.

"Every state and in many cases each delegate will then be required to come out from under his woodpile and tell the voters of the country precisely where he stands on the subject of repeal of the Eighteenth amendment," Dr. Butler said.

"The bell has rung for the pussy-foot and the trimmer. There is something more important than party harmony and this is party honesty."

His resolution says in part:

"We ask that the Congress submit a proposal to repeal the Eighteenth amendment, which proposal shall be submitted for ratification by conventions of the people of the several states in accordance with provisions of article five of the constitution of the United States."

"Should the Eighteenth amendment be repealed, the Republican party pledges its influence and authority to secure adoption of such measures for the control of the liquor traffic of the several states as will promote temperance, effectively abolish the saloon, whether open or concealed, and bring the liquor traffic by the several states as will promote temperance, effectively abolish the saloon, whether open or concealed, and bring the liquor traffic itself, when not prohibited, under complete public supervision and control."

Cannon Withdraws From Lieutenant Governor's Race

Hope Man Declares He Will Retire to Private Life

TERRAL ON STUMP
Judge J. M. Futrell Opens at Pine Bluff on June 14

With all candidates in the senatorial race well into the midst of their stump tours, and the gubernatorial campaign getting into full swing, state politics was marked by the first withdrawal last week-end.

Curtis Cannon, representative from this county who recently opened his campaign for lieutenant-governor with an address at Magnolia, announced he would be unable to continue. His withdrawal statement said:

"Finding myself financially unable to continue my race for lieutenant governor and believing there are other good men in the race who have consistent records for support of the people's interest, I am withdrawing from the contest for this position."

"I have never had any desire to hold public office and am perfectly willing to retire to private life after four years of service in the legislature. My only hope is that the people of Arkansas will support some man in this race who has not been connected with the present corrupt administration."

The candidacy of former Governor Tom J. Terral reached the speaking stage Saturday with his opening address at Fordyce. His campaign headquarters in Little Rock also were opened in the Wallace building.

Another important campaign opening will be Tuesday, June 14 at Pine Bluff, when Judge J. M. Futrell takes the stump for his first speech. His Greenlee county supporters are planning to run a special train from Fordyce to Pine Bluff "celebrating" the occasion.

Much interest in the proposed preferential or run-off primary continued despite expressions from a majority of the members of the Democratic State Central Committee that they do not believe the committee has authority to order the holding of such a primary.

These expressions were contained in letters received during the past two weeks by Harvey G. Combs, assistant secretary of the committee, in response to inquiry sent to all committeemen. Practically all replies indicated that the writers believe in the principle of a double primary, but most of them expressed the belief that such a primary cannot be held without legislative authority, or at least without formal approval of the party convention.

At a mass meeting held at Wynne under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, a resolution was adopted requesting all candidates for governor to agree in writing to abide by a run-off primary to be held under regulations to be prescribed by the State Central Committee.

Jack Abramson, secretary of the Wynne Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed the Arkansas Gazette that candidates for governor will be asked to indicate by registered letter whether they will agree to a run-off primary to be participated in by the two or more candidates whose combined votes equal a majority of the votes cast in the first primary, provided no candidate receives a majority in the first primary. He said candidates were requested to authorize publication of their replies.

Says Committee Has Authority

In a communication to the Arkansas Gazette, John H. Page, former secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, expressed the belief that the committee has authority to order a preferential primary. He pointed out that such a primary would have to be held before the regular primary since the date for that election is fixed by statute.

Confederate Prison Plot Acquired by Government

SANDUSKY, Ohio.—(P)—The graves of 206 Confederate soldiers on Lonley Little Johnson's Island were taken over formally Sunday by the government against which they fought 70 years ago.

Memorial services were held by the Daughters of the Confederacy on the Sandusky bay islet where the soldiers, prisoners of war, died of wounds or exposure as the Lake Erie winds howled through the cracks of the hastily constructed barracks.

The title to the cemetery was presented to the war department Sunday in accordance with an act of congress a year ago.

The local officials believe it to be the last Confederate prison plot acquired by the government.

Curtis Cannon Files
Petition for Divorce

Curtis Cannon, Hempstead county representative in the legislature for the last two sessions and candidate for lieutenant-governor up to last week, filed suit for divorce Saturday in Pulaski chancery court at Little Rock against his wife Mrs. Floy Cannon, charging desertion.

Mrs. Cannon has been residing with her parents at Phoenix, Ariz., for the Prosecution of Seabury Demanded

New York Prober Accused of Accepting Steamer Concessions

NEW YORK.—(P)—Criminal prosecution of Samuel Seabury on a charge of violating the state constitution by accepting preferential steamship rates was demanded Sunday as the Hofstadter Committee lawyer began summarizing for Governor Roosevelt the evidence he had adduced concerning Mayor James J. Walker.

Seabury, who plans to have an analyst of the Walker testimony in Mr.
Roosevelt's hands about the middle of this week, was accused by State Senator John A. Hastings of having traveled to Bermuda and back in accommodations worth $1,010, but for which he paid only $460.

Hastings, the Brooklyn Democrat whose name figured in the Hofstadter Committee's investigation and who, himself, was subjected to Seabury's questioning, demanded that Seabury be prosecuted on a misdemeanor count.

In a letter to District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain, Hastings declared Seabury bought accommodations to and from Bermuda last March for $460, but actually used a more expensive suite.

As a public official, by virtue of his appointment as lawyer to the Hofstadter Committee, Hastings contended Seabury was amenable to a constitutional prohibition against the acceptance of "free transportation or discrimination in passenger rates."

"I direct your attention to these facts," Hastings' letter concluded, "so that they may be presented to the grand jury of your county for indictment or to a city magistrate in your borough for appropriate action against the said Samuel Seabury."

The constitution also provides that the attorney general may sue for the removal of the offending official.

Hastings frequently has assailed Seabury's conduct of the city investigation and on one occasion threatened to punch him.

Seabury returned from commencement exercises at Washington and Jefferson College Sunday and immediately conferred with J. A. of his aides preparatory to drafting a summary of the Walker testimony.

In the analysis to be laid before Governor Roosevelt, about the middle of the week, it is expected these high spots will include Mayor Walker's relations with the missing accountant, Russell T. Sherwood, and his acceptance of $26,500 in bonds from J. A. Sisto, a broker.

Seabury declined to comment on dispatches from Hyde Park last night representing the governor as feeling that Seabury was "playing politics."

The dispatches quoted an unidentified visitor as promising the governor would act promptly once he is furnished with an official record of the Walker testimony.

Seabury is expected to follow the same procedure he pursued in the case of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, who subsequently was removed by the governor for failure to offer a satisfactory explanation of his income.

In that case Seabury sent a transcript and analysis of the testimony to Mr. Roosevelt, together with a letter asking the governor to decide whether Farley was fit to remain in office.

New York Police Grilling Hoodlums

Questioning Gang Leaders About Lindbergh Ransom Hoax

NEW YORK.—Slowly, secretly, but inevitably, police are bringing in every gang leader in New York City for a thorough grilling on the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom hoax in the Bronx.

Although neither Police Commissioner Edward Mullooney nor any other high police official would admit it, it was learned Sunday that orders for the wholesale roundup were issued several days ago.

The first to fall into police clutches was Salvatore Spitalo, Manhattan racketeer, who had been questioned by the Bronx Grand Jury only a few hours before his appointment by Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh as a "go-between" in dealings with the kidnapers of his son, the first underworld character to be so commissioned. The police investigation is entirely independent of either the Bronx inquiry or the New Jersey investigation.

Despite a permit which showed he had a right to carry a gun, Spitalo was arrested in a West 47th street speakeasy raid Friday on a gun-toting charge. It was disclosed, but only after the police had their opportunity to question the prisoner at length.

A similar move brought Arthur ("Dutch" Schultz), Flegenheimer, Bronx beer baron, into the police net early Sunday. With Charles Wrenberg, his bodyguard, the young racketeer was arrested as he stepped from a restaurant in West 47th street. They were kept in custody several hours, but released "when police discovered they were not wanted for any crime."

Because Schultz was one of the few underworld leaders who refused to take any part in attempted negotiations for return of the Lindbergh baby, police long have suspected he might have played a part in the $50,000 duping of Dr. John F. Condon.

Before releasing Schultz, Lieutenant Christopher Hodge, in charge of detectives at the West 47th station, told the beer runner "he wasn't wanted around 'Broadway' and warned him to stay away from the midtown West Side." Others whom police are expected to seize on various pretexts include Owney Madden, whose lieutenants were actively interested in the Lindbergh hunt and Morris Rosner, who spent several weeks at the Lindbergh mansion near Hopewell, N. J.

Chauffeur Tells of Murder Plot

San Francisco Police Spur Hunt for Slain Woman's Beneficiary

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—Vincent Hallinan, lawyer, for Frank J. Egan, indicted on a charge of directing the murder of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, a friend of many years, said Saturday that he would turn Egan over to police at 10 a. m. Monday.

Egan disappeared Friday shortly before police made public the asserted confession of Verne Doran, Egan's former convict chauffeur, naming Egan as the man who planned Mrs. Hughes' death so he might full heir to her money.

A Grand Jury indictment was returned Sunday by Doran told police that he and Albert Tinnin, another ex-convict, went to Mrs. Hughes home April 29, knocked her unconscious and then ran a heavy motor car over her body in an effort to make it appear she was the victim of a hit and run driver.

Egan's car, with the motor still warm, was found Saturday night in a garage near Hallinan's Emerald lake cottage, Emerald lake, on the San Francisco peninsula south of here, was searched on the theory that Egan might have committed suicide. The hunt continued Sunday despite Hallinan's promise to produce his client.

Doran said that he and Tinnin owed their freedom from prison to Egan. The murder was committed, he said, under Egan's threat to railroad them back to prison unless they complied.

Officers said Egan was the beneficiary of Mrs. Hughes' insurance policies and a legatee in her will, but these documents have not yet been produced.

Egan's disappearance Saturday climaxed a month's investigation of Mrs. Hughes' death April 29.

So This Is Jack Dempsey's Pal

Both Jack Dempsey and his beautiful dark-haired girl friend insisted she was "Rosita Gonzales of South America" when they were seen dancing and dining together in San Francisco. Everybody else thought the ex-champ's companion was Lina Basquette, the ballerina. And sure enough she was. Now both are in Reno where marriage rumors are afloat. But Dempsey, after admitting that Rosita and Lina are one and the same, says, "Lina Basquette is just a very good friend—a pal."

Robinson to Star In Coming Picture

"Two Seconds" Will Be Shown at Saenger Tuesday and Wednesday

Additional evidence of the versatility of Edward G. Robinson, as a master delineator of human types is provided in his latest starring vehicle for First National Pictures, "Two Seconds," which comes to the Saenger Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

In previous film roles Robinson has appeared as gunman, gambler, editor and oriental. He has always been a stone-hearted man, dominating men and events with an inflexible will and daring which carried all before it. In "Two Seconds," however, he portrays John Allen, a hard-working iron worker who is a victim of circumstances.

As Allen, Edward G. Robinson makes a radical departure from the characters he has been giving American picture audiences, beginning with "Little Caesar" on through "Five Star Final" and "The Hatchet Man." The actor himself regards the character as the most difficult since his entrance into pictures. Metropolitan critics have hailed Robinson's performance in this picture as one of the brilliant achievements of the dramatic season.

possessions to his mother, and then, with a 32-caliber automatic, fired three shots at his head. They all missed. Friends broke into his room and disarmed him. He was then jailed by police for intoxication.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that Ward & Son say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back. Adv.
